Proceedings of the Government of H H the Maharaja of Mysore

Read :-

Note dated 13th February 1917 by Mr. K. L. Datta, Special Officer on the subject of "Amalgamation of the State Huzur and the Bangalore District Treasuries".

Order thereon:

H 7619-68 / G7-233-16-3 } Bangalore 20' June/17

The chief work of the State Huzur Treasury now consists of the collection of the surpluses of District and Taluk Treasuries and sending some of them to the Bank of Madras, Bangalore, and to utilise the balance to meet the requirements of the deficit Treasuries. These surpluses to be remitted to the Bank of Madras can be sent to it direct, by the remitting Treasuries without the intervention of any Treasury at Bangalore. The Bangalore District Treasury is always in deficit and a part of the surpluses collected at the Huzur Treasury has to be sent to the District Treasury. This method of supplying funds to the Bangalore Treasury involves double shroffing, first when remittances are received at the Huzur Treasury and then again when they are received at the Bangalore Treasury. With the opening of the Mysore-Arsikere Railway, Mysore will be more conveniently connected with Hassan, Kadur, Shimoga and Chitaldrug than Bangalore and it will be more economical to collect at Mysore, that portion of the surpluses of these Treasuries which is likely to be required at Mysore and the treasuries mentioned, during the slack season and also to send from Mysore than from Bangalore, remittances to some of the other Treasuries during the deficit season.

The work of the State Huzur Treasury other than that relating to remittances consists of.

(1) incorporating in its accounts, the transactions with the Bank of Madras, Bangalore,

(2) receiving, storing and supplying small coins and opium to Treasuries, and

(3) paying Pollegar pensions and dealing with questions relating to such pensions.

The transactions of the Dewan's deposit account with the Bank of Madras, Bangalore, need not be passed through the State Huzur Treasury Accounts and they can be directly brought on the Books of the Comptroller. The other items of work are too insignificant to require the maintenance of a separate Treasury for their performance.

2. The work of the State Huzur Treasury is thus capable of substantial reduction by altering the procedure in regard to remittances and by transferring to the Comptroller's Office, the accounts of the Madras Bank transactions. The work of the Bangalore District Treasury has already been considerably reduced by the system of Preaudit Payments and the simplification of work of both the District and Taluk Treasuries recommended by Mr. Datta and sanctioned by Government in their order No.4683-5 dated 19th February 1917. In view of these considerations, the maintenance of both the Bangalore District and the State Huzur Treasuries is unnecessary and Mr. Datta has accordingly suggested their amalgamation into one Treasury which will result in simplification of work and in a reduction of the cost of establishment. Government agree with Mr. Datta and direct that with effect from 24th June 1917, the two Treasuries be combined and worked as one.

3. The combined Treasury will be located in the Public Office Buildings and will be called the State Huzur Treasury. The Taluk Treasuries in the Bangalore District will submit daily and monthly accounts to it as they are now doing to the Bangalore District Treasury.

4. The State Huzur Treasury will cease to be a separate treasury from the 24th June 1917 and it will submit to the Comptroller an account made up for the first 23 days of the month. Its cash balance at the close of the 23rd June 1917 will be shown as having been remitted the same day to the combined Treasury. The Treasury Officer, Bangalore, will take charge of this balance on the same day and credit it in his accounts as a remittance received from the State Huzur Treasury.

The

The 24th June 1917 is a Sunday and all the arrangements necessary for transferring the work of the Bangalore District Treasury to the combined Treasury should be completed on that day when the Treasury Officer, Bangalore, Mr. Srinivasa Murthi should take over complete charge of the Huzur Treasury, from Mr. Krishnaswami Rao. The combined Treasury should conduct transactions with the public under the new procedure with effect from the 25th June 1917. The accounts for June 1917 to be submitted to the Comptroller by the combined Treasury will be for its transactions from the 25th to 30th of the month and for the transactions of the Bangalore District and Taluk Treasuries for the whole month.

5. The transactions of the Dewan's Deposit account with the Bank of Madras, Bangalore, will, with effect from the 25th June 1917, be brought directly on the books of the Comptroller. The cheques drawn on this account will not, from that date, be signed by the State Huzur Treasury Officer but by an Assistant Comptroller authorised to do so by the Comptroller.

6. The present practice of bringing on the accounts of the State Huzur Treasury, remittances sent to the Bank of Madras, Bangalore, direct from other Treasuries, will be discontinued and such remittances will be charged in the accounts of the remitting Treasuries as remittances to the Bank, and credited in the accounts of the Bank rendered to the Comptroller.

7. The combined Treasury will be the Depot for keeping stocks of small coins and opium and supplying them to the Treasuries.

8. Payment of Pollegar pensions will be made by the combined Treasury and the Officer in charge of it, will deal with all questions relating to such pensions under the orders of the Comptroller. Correspondence with Government in regard to such matters, as well as in all other matters connected with the Huzur Treasury, will be carried on by the Comptroller.

9. The Huzur Treasury will be under the control of the Comptroller, the whole establishment including the Treasury Officer working under his orders. The relation of of this Treasury to the Taluk Treasuries in the Bangalore District will be the same as that between the Taluk Treasuries and the District Treasuries of other Districts. The Treasury Officer will have power to give instructions to the Taluk Treasuries in regard to accounts work, though the Taluk Treasuries will continue to be under the control of the Revenue Department who will be responsible for the safe custody of the cash, for their periodical verification and for their general management specially in regard to their dealings with the public and they will be inspected by revenue officers as at present, apart from their inspection by the Huzur Treasury Officer as provided for in the next para.

10. The Taluk Treasuries in the Bangalore District will also be inspected by the officer in charge of the combined Treasury as required by para 728 of the Mysore Treasury Manual and inspection reports will be sent to the Revenue Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District. This procedure is necessary as the Taluk Treasuries in the Bangalore District will continue to be under the Administrative control of the Revenue Department and any disciplinary action in regard to officers in charge of Taluk Treasuries, called for by an inspection report, has to be taken by that Department.

11. The verifications of cash balance of the combined Treasury on the 1st of every month will be made by the Comptroller.

12. The amalgamation renders practically the whole establishment of the present State Huzur Treasury superfluous. The establishment of the Bangalore District Treasury should also be capable of substantial reduction due to the introduction of Preaudit payments, and simplification in the system of Treasury Accounts. The only additional work which will devolve on the Bangalore District Treasury, is that relating to Pallegar pensions

pensions and stocking and supplying small coins and opium. The establishment of the combined Treasury will, from 1st July next, consist of the following hands:-

1 Head Accountant.
9 Assistant Accountants.
1 Treasurer
4 Shroffs.
4 Gollars.
1 Mutchi
1 Duffedar
4 Peons.

The Comptroller will in consultation with the Revenue Commissioner, select from the establishment of the Bangalore District Treasury, the men required for the combined Treasury in addition to the men retained out of the establishment of the present Huzur Treasury. The men selected will, until further orders, draw the pay they are now getting.

13. Of the permanent hands thrown out by these arrangements from the present Huzur Treasury establishment, those who have attained the age of superannuation should be retired from 1st July 1917 and the others should be provided for in the Comptroller's Office, temporary men now entertained in that Office being discharged. Similar arrangements should be made by the Revenue Department, in regard to permanent men now on the Bangalore Treasury Staff not required for the combined Treasury. If any of these men cannot be provided for immediately, they should be kept on as supernumeraries, but no temporary men should be retained so long as any of these men are retained as supernumeraries The Comptroller should submit a report regarding the men selected for the combined Treasury establishment and the men of the present State Huzur Treasury who have to be kept on as supernumeraries. The Revenue Commissioner will also submit a report regarding the men of the District Treasury staff who have to be kept on as supernumeraries. On receipt of the reports called for, orders will be issued to other Departments if necessary, to reserve vacancies occurring in them for absorbing these hands.

14. The Barr guard at present on duty at the District Treasury should also be sent back and placed under the disposal of the Chief Commandant, with effect from the 25th June 1917.

15. As suggested by Mr. Datta, orders have already been issued to discontinue, with effect from 1st April 1917, all payments previously made by the Bangalore Taluk Treasury. The transactions at the Taluk Treasury are now confined to receiving the collections on account of Land and Excise Revenue and all other receipts are now required to be paid direct into the District Treasury. With effect from 25th June 1917, the Bangalore Taluk Treasury will send its daily collections to the new State Husur Treasury which will also receive direct, all other money payable to Government, at Bangalore. The Barr guard now employed at the Bangalore Taluk Treasury should be replaced at the disposal of the Chief Commandant as soon as possible after the receipt of these orders. The services of the Nagadi Gumasta and one of the two gollars at present employed at the Taluk Treasury are no longer required for work in connection with the Taluk Treasury and if they are permanent officials they should be provided for in some other suitable vacancies as soon as possible. The establishment of the Taluk Treasury at Bangalore will consist in future, of only a shroff and a gollar besides the shroff now entertained for receiving Excise collections.

16. The Officer in charge of the combined Treasury will, until further orders, be ex-officio Superintendent of Stamps.

Mr.

Mr. Srinivasa Murti will accordingly take over charge of the Office of Stamp Superintendent on the 24th June 1917 from Mr. M. Krishnaswami Rao.
